

CalendarBuilder Real-time events calendar online

Feature special events on your web site and attract more people to your events with ACM Media's CalendarBuilder. This web-based event calendaring system is a powerful, flexible and inexpensive solution for providing time-sensitive information to your customers through your web site. Use CalendarBuilder to build an online events calendar that you can easily update yourself.

What is CalendarBuilder?

- CalendarBuilder is a web-based event calendaring system for creating and updating event listings on your web site.
- It offers an intuitive user interface and gathers data such as event details, related images and web addresses to present online.
- It provides web content management capabilities without the need for any web authoring or programming expertise.
- It is a powerful, flexible and inexpensive solution for adding new and dynamic content to your web site.
- It is customizable to fit seamlessly into your existing web site and maintains your logo and branding.

Benefits of CalendarBuilder

Low up-front cost and rapid deployment.

Improves the quality of information on your web site.

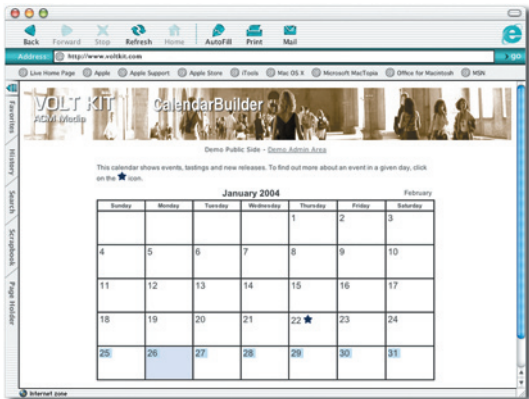

Helps you effectively promote your events and attract more customers.

Accessible anytime, anywhere.

Easy to use, requiring little or no technical expertise.

Add a new event to the online calendar

Offer an events calendar through your existing web site

How Does CalendarBuilder Work?

1. Login to CalendarBuilder via any web-enabled computer using your secure password.
2. Add an event to the calendar. Enter the event's details and description. Upload any related image. List the event on the main page of your web site, if appropriate.
3. Modify or remove an event from the calendar.
4. Submit the changes. Logout of CalendarBuilder. The updated calendar and event highlights are now posted on your web site.

To find out more about CalendarBuilder, please contact:

ACM Media Inc.
604.618.4097 | info@voltkit.com

